J. C. WORTH LEASES ENTIRE THAYER BLDG.

The Thayer building at the corner of Franklin and Bath streets, one of the largest office buildings in the city, built and owned by Judge John M. Thayer, has been leased with the adjoining property, known as the Dearing property on Bath street, to Joseph C. Worth, one of Norwich's most active young business men. Mr. Worth leases the building for a term of years as an investment.

The Thayer building has 52 offices on the second, third and fourth floors, the greater part of them being occupied at the present time. In the basement is a large bowling alley and on the first floor are three large stores, one occupied by Andrew's Bakery, one by King's Market and the other is vacant.

Mr. Worth intends as one of his first moves after the leasing of the building, to start a public market in the now vacant store. The public market will be conducted on the same principles as the public markets in Springfield and other large cities. The store will be divided into stalls or booths and these booths will be subleased to merchants who will make up the market. This will give Norwich a central trading place for produce and other merchandise where one can go and purchase practically anything without traveling about the city.

Three children were placed in orphan asylums and one in a boarding school.

In the animal department the records show forty-nine complaints of cruelty reported during November. Twelve horses were found to be unfit for any further service and six other large animals were humanely destroyed by agents of the society.

Sixty-seven cats and nine dogs were humanely destroyed at headquarters. Five dogs and nine cats were in the shelter during the month, and homes were found for five dogs and eight cats. JEWETT CITY OFFICER
ARRESTS TEN IN RAID
(Special to The Bulletin)

Jewett City, Jan. 4.—Nine men and the proprietor, Lucas Lupa, were arrested here about 5 o'clock this afternoon when Officer J. E. Dolan playing a lone hand raided the place which is claimed by Officer Dolan to be a poker den.

Making his round about 5 o'clock, Officer Dolan encountered three young boys ages ranging from 14 to 17 years, coming out of the place which is in the Polish corporation block. Officer Dolan stopped the boys and was asking them their ages when the proprietor of the place interfered, demanding to know what right the officer had to question the boys. Officer Dolan immediately went into the place where he found nine men seated around a card table. The men admitted that they had been playing poker. Officer Dolan claims that he has had many complaints of the place within the past few days and that it has been conducted with a high hand. The place has been opened only a comparatively short time.

The proprietor and the frequenters will appear before the town court this (Wednesday) morning.

Y. M. C. A. WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

HEARS AMERICANIZATION WORK
The January meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of the Misses Norton, 128 Washington street, Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. A. N. H. Vaughn, presided, and there was a large attendance of members.

Devotional exercises were led as usual by Edwin Hill, local secretary, who also outlined briefly the plans of the committee in charge of the new association building. Due to the increased price of materials and labor, the amount of money originally pledged for the entire building is insufficient, so it has been planned to build only the first unit of the structure at present. This will consist of an up-to-date gymnasium, equipped with the latest thing in running tracks, swimming pool, lockers, etc., and will be a permanent building to be connected with the two old houses owned by the association. The lower floors of which will be in use for the men and boys. Upstairs, changes will be made to provide dormitories, the income from which will be the same as that now received from the present "Y." Later on, as sufficient funds warrant, a second and then a third unit will be added. The whole new building is completed. It is hoped that the New Year's reception in 1922 may be held in the first completed unit.

At the speaker of the afternoon, J. William Denton, Americanization and educational director of the State Y. M. C. A., gave a very interesting and comprehensive talk on the phase of work in which he is especially concerned, that of the educational service work being done for ex-servicemen. He pointed out the importance of taking up their education broken off by the war, are given an opportunity to complete different courses of study, toward a vocational education, through collegiate and general scholarships.

Approximately a sum of $5,000,000 has been set aside for this purpose, the complete allotment for Connecticut being $25,000, such fund to be supervised by regional, state and local committees. Five-sixths of this money has been awarded for general scholarships, as the majority of men are interested in preparatory courses, the remaining one-sixth being used for collegiate study. There is also an extension department which gives correspondence courses equal to any correspondence school, in which English, agricultural and technical knowledge is taught. The work is given without favor; applications are considered solely on basis of merit, and there is no racial or religious partiality. The state educational service committee grants all college awards, while general scholarships are awarded by local committees. The rural districts in Connecticut have been well covered, and the money wisely distributed throughout the state.

Awards may range from one or two dollars to $200, which is the highest allotment for day work, with a maximum of $500 for the collegiate courses. The committee endeavors to make the widest possible distribution, and many pleasing letters of appreciation are daily received from their beneficiaries. Statistics show that the men apply themselves to their studies and are getting fine results. The value of such service is very great; by helping individuals we are rendering help to the community life in general, and perhaps nothing the "Y" has done since war times has rendered more service than this educational work among our ex-soldiers.

Following Mr. Denton's extremely valuable address, Miss Lucy Wilcox, who is a talented pupil to Miss Olive Hunt, played pretty well a very charming piano selections, March and Hungarian Dance.

by Reinhold. Reports were then heard and approved. The committee in charge voted that the sum of $250 was realized from sale of tickets for the mock trial. It was voted to increase this sum to $300 and apply it towards diminishing further the money pledged towards the new building fund by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Henry Johnston spoke about the plans for the Fathers and Sons banquet, to be held in the Association rooms on January 12. A fine menu has been prepared and there will also be an interesting speaker.

Miss Wilcox again contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon by rendering two more songs, The Pretty Ballad Singer and The Tugboat Comedian (Duet) after which a social hour was enjoyed, tea being poured by Mrs. Charles L. Richards and Mrs. Charles Nichols, who were assisted in serving by Mrs. E. D. Fuller and Mrs. Archibald Mitchell, Jr.

Opportunities in the Navy.
The navy recruiting station at New London desires to call to the attention of all ex-navy men the fact that they can still re-enlist for a period of two, three and four years and all those who have been discharged less than four months, and who re-enlist, will receive a bonus of one month's pay for whatever number of years they may re-enlist for, will receive 25 days leave commencing on date of re-enlistment and other desirable benefits.

All naval reservists who have more than one year to serve on their enrollment can transfer into the regular navy to serve out that unexpired portion of their enrollment and will receive the same benefits that regular navy men get upon re-enlistment.

Naval reservists who have less than one year to serve on their enrollment can be discharged from the naval reserve force and be immediately enlisted in the regular navy.

MAKING CONTRIBUTIONS FOR

EUROPEAN RELIEF WORK
Although the most intensive drive for funds for the European Relief work was made just before the Christmas holidays, the local committee has not abandoned the great humanitarian work and is still receiving subscriptions to the fund. There is a great work to be done and every contribution helps materially in the saving of some child in the devastated regions of Europe where there are three and one-half million children on the very threshold of death because of the lack of medical care and the lack of food.

The quota of Connecticut in the drive for $34,000,000 is about $850,000 which if figured at the ratio of other drives gives Norwich a quota of about $24,000. There has been raised here to date a little over $2,000.

Recent contributors to the fund are: Polish Citizens Club, Norway society of the Preston chapel, Elmwood, Spaulding, Nancy W. Stephens, Greenwood Congregational church (additional contribution), Norwichville council of Jewish Women, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hewitt, Central Baptist church (additional contribution), Miss Miriam Cummings, Miss Cummings, Miss Alice M. Hooper, Columbian Community, Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Brown and Miss Harriette.

SUES TO RECOVER $204

FROM MR. CHESNO'S ESTATE
Judge C. H. Welch in the common pleas court here Monday heard the evidence in the case of Lloyd E. Welch vs. Norwich against Martin B. Davis, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Josephine Welch, mother of the plaintiff. After the evidence and the arguments by Attorney Joseph T. Manning for the plaintiff and Arthur T. Keefe for the defendant the court reserved decision and took the case under advisement.

The suit was brought on the claim that the plaintiff gave certain sums of money to his mother to keep for him, amounting in all to $204 and he seeks to recover this. It is alleged that the plaintiff gave the deceased each week to keep for him $2 weekly from November 1, 1913, to October 1, 1917, and $5 weekly from Oct. 1, 1917, to Aug. 1, 1919.

New London's New Reservoir Finished.
The new reservoir at Totten's brook, New London, which has been in course of construction during the past year, is now pronounced complete. The water was allowed to flow into the reservoir on Dec. 29 for the first time. It will require some little time for the reservoir to become filled, as it has a capacity of more than 200,000,000 gallons.
